Maryville College

If the past cannot teach the present and the father cannot teach the son, then history need not have bothered to go on, and the world has wasted a great deal of time.
--Russel Hoban

Chilhowean 1998

MC Timeline

The "Frame College," which started construction in 1829 and was completed in 1833, was the second classroom building. The building was used for a chapel, recitation rooms, a place for prayer meetings and Sabbath school, general meetings, and dormitory rooms.

1833

1819

Dr. Isaac Anderson, who out of concern about the scarcity of ministers in the area, proposed establishing a seminary in Tennessee. Without providing for endowment. buildings, or library, and with no mention of salary, the Synod voted Anderson the first professorship. He went on to serve as President of MC for 38 years.

1906

Student publications have long been a part of MC history. The Chilhowean was founded in 1906, and the Echo was established as a weekly student newspaper in 1915. Impressions was first published in 1974.

Work study had an entirely different meaning the the 1920s. The Maryville College Maid-Shop employed three hundred women students at the peak of its production. They produced and marketed various garments and were paid 17 cents an hour.

1920

In the fall of 1997, 84 students moved into the Orlean B. Beeson Residential Village. The Village was the first new construction project on campus since the Cooper Athletic Center was built 27 years ago.

1997

1979

The Highland Marching Band had a red-letter year. The band performed for all the home football games and pep rallies. They also traveled to Orlando, FL for the Scots-UCF gane. There, they were the smallest college band to ever march in the Tangerine Bowl.

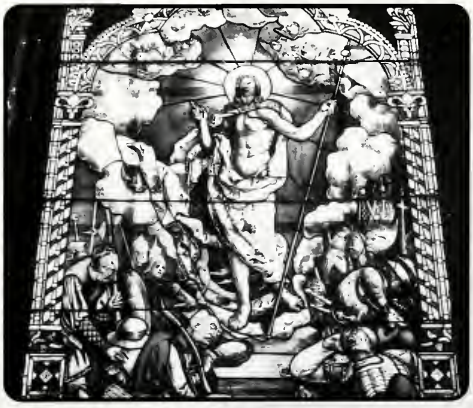
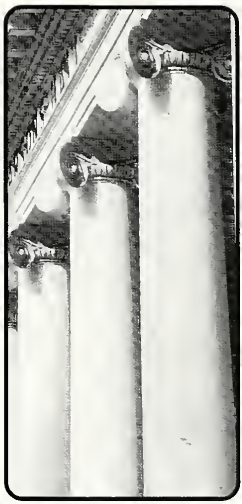
Our Campus

From A Different Perspective . . .





Seniors

Anderson Hall

The first building of Maryville still graces the campus beautifully. Renovated recently with the trademark Tower stretching to the sky and crowned by the American Flag, Anderson Hall served all academic, administrative, and social needs for the first 20 years of its birth on campus. It contained a chapel, classrooms, library, and practice rooms for musicians.

As the campus expanded and departments grew, Anderson became limited to administrative offices and classrooms as it is today.

Senior Gift

The Senior Gift Campaign began the week after Spring Break. Previously, the class had decided that there was a need for a picnic area outside of Beeson Village. After meeting with Mark Cate, Director of Development and Andy McCall, Director of the Physical Plant, the decision was made to raise money for the construction of this picnic area. The Class of 1998 is very excited to be able to contribute a lasting landmark to Maryville College that can be enjoyed by future classes. President of the Class of 1998, Devin "Devo" Koester would like to thank all of the Campaign Committeee members that took time out of their busy schedules to raise the money that was needed to fund this project. He would also like to challenge future classes to show as much support for thier school as the class of 1998. At the Senior Barbecue, Koester presented more than $4,500 to the school and noted that 51% of the Senior Class participated in the gift.

Underclassmen

Pearsons Hall was built in 1910. The gift of $20,000 was given by Dr. Daniel K. Pearsons. The original building only contained two stories. As the need for more space increased, a third story was added to the building in 1912. By 1918, a fourth floor was made ready for use in September. Pearsons suffered from two fires, one of which practically demolished the building in 1972. As Pearsons was rebuilt from the fire, the fourth floor was eliminated. Pearsons Hall now stands with three floors. The Cafeteria is located on the first floor with the remaining two floors providing residency for students.

The Center for Campus Ministry

The gift from Dr. Thomas Jefferson Lamar's death provided Maryville with the Lamar Memorial Library, which was modeled after the library of Lane Seminary. When the library was relocated to Thaw Hall in 1925, the original building was then used to house the Preparatory Department and later the post office, the print shop, and the bookstore. Today, the oak woodwork, stained glass window, and letters under galleries reminding one of the classification system used in the original library combine to give the building special charm and historical significance. It is now used as the home for the Center for Campus Ministry, enhancing its function as a symbol of the faith and unselfish service that are at the heart of the College.

Organizations

Bartlett Hall

Japanese student Kin Takahashi left a remarkable influence on Maryville College through his leadership as a student and support as an alumnus. His love for athletics and religion provided Maryville with a YMCA building that housed a gymnasium, swimming pool, and auditorium. After Takahashi led a fundraising drive and collected funds to construct Bartlett, he also organized students to help in the contruction. Bartlett Hall was dedicated on 12 February 1898. Kin returned to Japan and died in 1902 at the age of 36. Bartlett Hall was named after the family legacy including Peter Mason Bartlett, MC's 3rd President, which served the college. Bartlett now contains the maintenance staff, print shop, and security. Today, the College still celebrates Takahashi's legacy during Kin Takahashi Week in June. The event is a volunteer work-week featuring the efforts of MC alumni, friends, and staff.

Carnegie Hall

Carnegie Hall was one of three buildings completed in 1910. It was established as a residence hall as it is to this day. In the year, 1916, Carnegie was destroyed by a fire but thanks to a tremendous volunteer effort and generous contributions, it was rebuilt and ready for use by New Year's Day, 1917. For years it has been one of the most desired dorms to live in on campus. Until Beeson Village was built, Carnegie was reserved for mostly Junior and Senior students. Today, the four floors house a variety of Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors.

From the Maryville College Alumni Association

Editor's Page

Dear Friends,

I truly hope that this publication of the Chilhowean Yearbook meets the expectations of all students faculty and staff, and alumni of Maryville College. The theme of this book is Ghosts of Maryville College. The purpose of the book is to provide students with captured memories of their time well spent at this establishment, as well as capturing special moments from the history of Maryville College.

Maryville College has such a great history, and I encourage all interested persons to read By Faith Endowed, The Story of Maryville College written by Drs. Carolyn L. Blair and Arda S. Walker. The book can be purchased in the Campus Bookstore. I only wish I could have included more tid-bits of fabulous information from this book into this year's annual. Each divider page provides photographs from various buildings on campus dating back from the early 1900's. All information in this book was researched based on Maryville College's Archives located on the ground floor of Lamar Memorial Library and the aid of the book above. I hope we have captured a few details that might interest you, the reader.

One of the reasons this theme was chosen was for the rich history Maryville has, however, students of today are part of that history. History will only continue at Maryville through students. When you look at this book 20 years later, Maryville's history will have grown remarkably, and I hope students will take pride in that history as supporting alumni.

As a freshman, I entered Maryville College without even an acquaintance. I came from a very small town in Alabama, and I had located to a different state without parental guidance. I went through difficult times, but Maryville was supportive through Orientation and my first semester. I met many new friends and became very excited to become a part of Maryville College. I couldn't wait to be back on campus after summer break. As I enter my Senior year, I realize how vital Maryville has been to me not only academically, but as a great stepping stone in life. Maryville College has given me confidence, helped me establish my ethics, and given me friendships that will last a lifetime.

I have so many people to thank. I would like to start with my parents for allowing and encouraging me to come to Maryville College. Your love and support is always in my heart. I would like to thank my staff for helping me to produce this book. Your hard work and effort has greatly paid off. Thanks to Ashley Edwards for stepping into the Assistant Editor position and leaving your mark on this book. Thanks to Sarah Wagner for the theme of this book, and Thanks to Jeff Gary for advising the Chilhowean staff. I wish Melissa Walker and Allison Watts the best of luck in next year's annual. I would also like to thank Dave Powell, Thelma Bianco, and Holly Bailey for their special guidance as Maryville College Faculty and Staff Members. Thanks to all of my roomates through their support from my tears and frustration, and thanks to all of my special friends at Maryville College.

I hope you enjoy your gift of The Chilhowean. Please remember you are a part of this book, not because you might be pictured, but because you are part of Maryville College, and its wonderful history. Thank you for allowing me to be the editor of the book and keep it with you forever. Take this piece of history wherever you go.
